DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the boil-off vapor being combined with the recovery tower overhead of claims 3,6,9 and 13 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-13 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-14 of U.S. Patent No. 6,604,380 in view of Key et al. Applicants' earlier patent (different inventive entity, but commonly assigned at time of invention), claims the same invention as the present application, a system which splits a stream of LNG, heats a portion of the stream and uses the not heated stream as reflux and the heated stream as a feed stream, using the bottom product thereof as the feed to a second column and using the overhead from the separation columns to provide the heating to the split portion of the LNG, substantially as claimed with the exception of compressing the bottom product from the first column, heat exchanging it with the overhead from the second column and then feeding the bottom product from the first column into the second column. Key et al shows this feature to be old in the art with bottom product 10 being compressed and passed through heat exchanger 38, which is also passed through by overhead 14 from column 56 which the bottom stream 10 becomes a feed. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicants' invention from the teaching of Key et al to modify the earlier patented claims by adding the bottoms from the first column are compressed, heat exchanged and fed to the second column to improve the separation efficiency of the system.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Stone et al, McCartney and Petit show LNG processing systems which condense product streams while heating the LNG. Trebble and Mak show multiple column systems which feed overhead from one column to the other after heat exchange.
